

Doug's Corner

What a great day last Sunday was! We had 29 in our teen class. It was awesome. I know how busy the next month and half will be for us all, but I want to encourage you to make time for the Lord!

We will be having our Graduate Dinner on Saturday, June 4th. We will be honoring our 2 grads, Alexia Turvaville & Lainey Martin. Make plans to join us to honor these 2 young ladies. I will have a sign up sheet for this dinner in the near future.

The MIA sign up list is up. This is for our current 5th-8th Graders. There is an early bird sign up of $10 by Sunday, May 1st. After that the cost is $25.

Make sure you are signing up for Pine Springs. I have the camp code. It is bellave. If you have any questions about camp, please let me know.

Most people love a good story, whether it's fiction or nonfiction. At the same time, however, many of them would prefer you to leave out some of the details (especially if they make them feel uncomfortable). "Too much information!" they protest, as they cover their ears.

But what about when it comes to the gospel story? Today, it seems like everyone wants to hear about Christ's love for mankind, but few care to hear about His condemnation of sin. Apparently not much has changed. About 2000 years ago, Jesus declared, "If I had not come and spoken to them, they would not be guilty of sin; but now they have no excuse for their sin" (John 15:22).

Remember Stephen? The book of Acts records that, in the midst of the high priest and other devout Jews, he told the story of Jesus beginning with God's promise to Abraham to make him the father of many nations. Before concluding, he shared some details that the Jews didn't want to hear. He told them that they were responsible for the betrayal and murder of Christ. In response, they covered their ears, rushed toward him, and stoned him to death.

Stephen could have saved his own life if he hadn't given the Jews too much information, but who knows how many souls he reached by his boldness to share the gospel? In the same way, how many of our friends and neighbors can we influence with the saving truth of God's Word?

Matthew 5:11-12 tells us, "Blessed are you when people insult you, persecute you and falsely say all kinds of evil against you because of me. Rejoice and be glad, because great is your reward in heaven, for in the same way they persecuted the prophets who were before you." When it comes to sharing the story of Christ with the lost, tell them lovingly, but don't spare any details.
